

Andrew PRICE

Senior Consultant & Owner of Cultural Intelligence

Developing global skills in individuals, teams and organizations to equip them for organizational change, leadership development and personal growth

Andrew is a bilingual (English & French) senior consultant specializing in organizational change initiatives, leadership development, executive coaching, and diversity training. He is based in Geneva

Andrew has lived and worked in his native Great Britain as well as Switzerland, France, USA and South Africa. He has travelled for his consulting work in over 60 countries. This experience gives him a balanced view of international business style commonalities and differences and it allows him to develop appropriate strategies with his clients in their pursuit of organizational change, leadership development and in the implications of diversity. He has coached C-suite executives in the pharmaceutical, oil and gas, construction, banking and consumer goods sectors

He is a graduate of Loughborough University in England where he studied politics and history and of the University of London where he studied for a masters in Organizational Behavior. He is a certified N.E.W.S. coach and navigator, and a certified Globesmart and Cultural Orientations Indicator practitioner.

Tel : +41796884968

Mail : andrewprice@culturalintelligence.ch